INNOVATION AND TECHNOLOGY FOR LIFE

THIS IS THE MISSION OF A COMPANY IN SEARCH FOR EXCELLENCE.

Blau Farmacêutica is currently one of the leading pharmaceutical companies in Latin America, producing high complexity and hospital medications, fundamental for human health, specializing in oncology, nephrology, hematology, infectology, among others.

Headquartered in the city of Cotia, in the metropolitan center of São Paulo, Blau Farmacêutica has three “State-of-the-Art” production plants with fourteen productive areas, classified by therapeutic types, using the most modern equipment of production and quality control.

Its production sites meet the best manufacturing practices and quality control required by the most demanding health authorities in the world, including Anvisa, Invima, among others.

The methods of analysis used in the quality control complies with the monographs, both brazilian and international, in their latest issues, in addition to using own methods, validated and developed in the company. The department has qualified and validated state-of-the-art equipment, using modern tools that ensure quality, information security and traceability.

Blau Farmacêutica R&D department is divided into two specialty areas: organic products and synthetic drugs. Both develop new products, formulations, processes and analytical methodologies, using the latest generation of equipment found only in advanced research laboratories and universities. Our R&D team is composed of postdoctoral professionals, doctors, masters, among others.

Its quality policy called “TOTAL QUALITY BLAU” aims to seek, encourage, renew and modify, requiring the highest quality and technology in each process, product, environment and life, prioritizing ethics and continuous improvement.

Blau

With more than 30 years of success and growth, BLAU Farmacêutica has more than 100 different pharmaceutical products developed in several therapeutic classes.

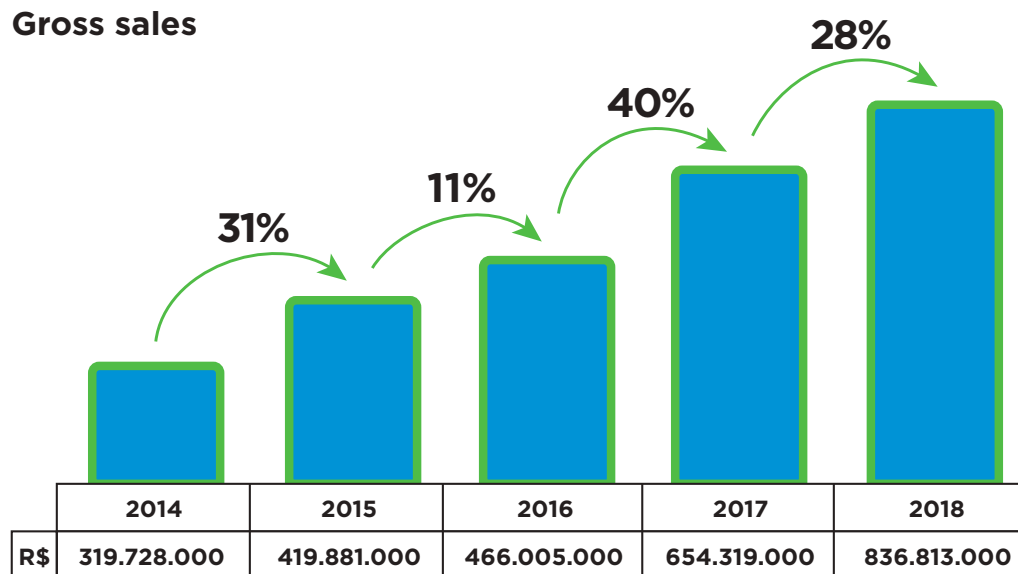

Blau has maintained an incredible annual growth of the order of 2 digits for the last 5 years. Its business plan is bold and based on a consistent strategy, with a precise implementation that allows us to reach these results, even in the most diverse political, economic and social scenarios.

Blau Farmacêutica has a clinical and non-clinical research department that performs retrospective studies (PMS/Phase IV), prospective studies (Phase I, II and III) and bioequivalences to prove the quality, efficacy and safety of its products, meeting the best clinical practice and applicable regulations. This department uses tools that guarantee the confidentiality and security of information.

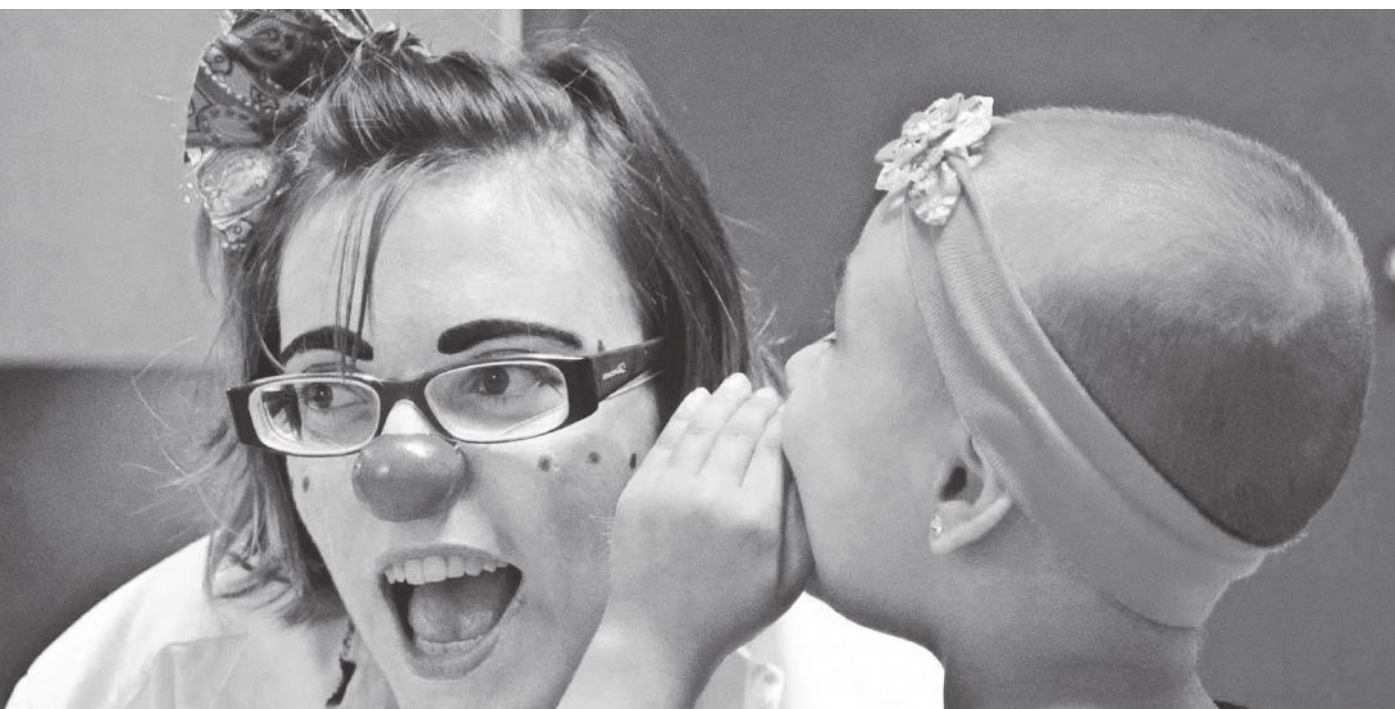

Blau Farmacêutica's quality assurance goes beyond our production plants, auditing and qualifying its suppliers and customers, in order to ensure the quality and traceability of its medications throughout the production chain, to the administration of its medications to patients.

Blau has an Information Technology (IT) department that uses the latest tools to link its customers and employees, obtaining speed and control of their information.

Blau has also a customer service department (SAC/SAM) with a skilled and qualified team to help patients and health professionals.

Its Pharmacovigilance System is always monitoring the adverse reactions to find possible unknown risks and propose, if necessary, measures to manage and minimize risks.

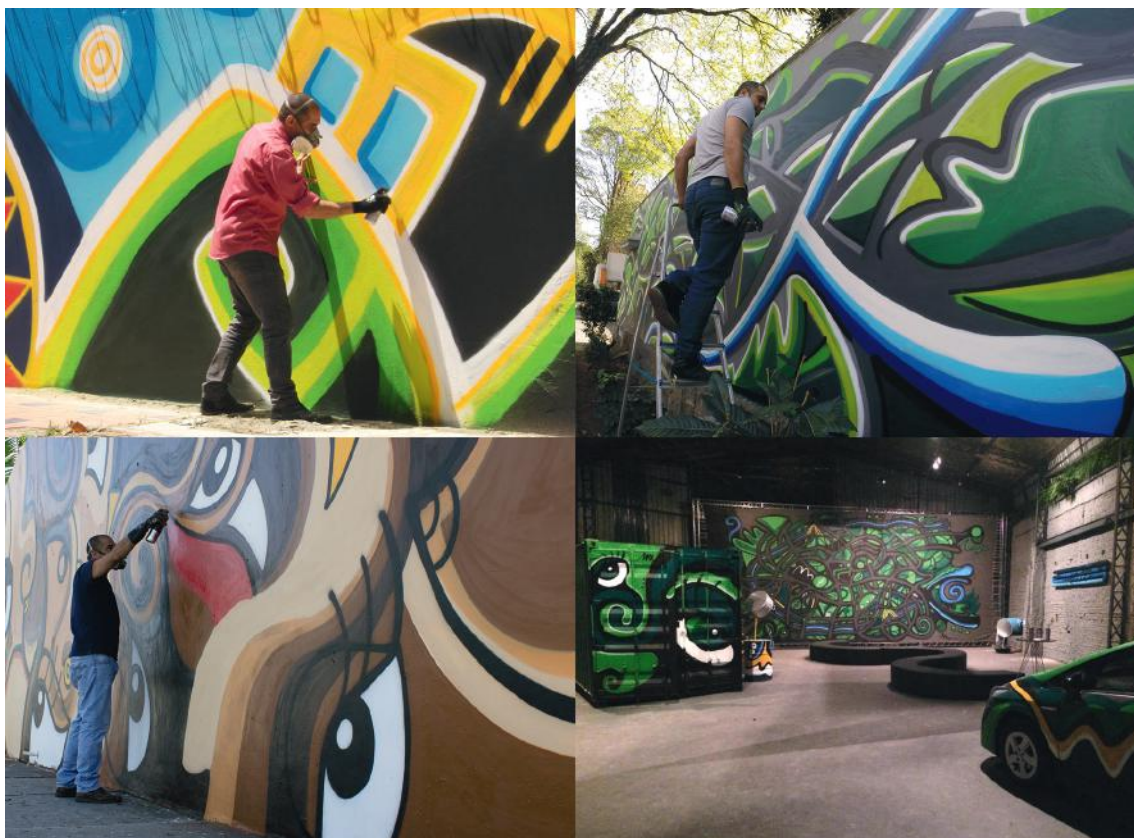

Blau Farmacêutica, in addition to working in the development and production of medications, is largely dedicated to social commitment, helping care institutions that perform recognized social work.

Besides, the company sponsors many cultural and sports projects, encouraged or not encouraged, promoting the exercise of citizenship and working for a fairer society.

Blau

Blau believes that one way to work for health is through sports. Therefore, it supports all types of sports, with emphasis on motorsport.

Blau's commitment to continuous growth is no reason for the company to forget what really matters: The environment and people.

Therefore, it invests extensively in sustainability through internal activities that contemplate the environmental preservation.

Blaü

Blau Farmacêutica knows how to value its employees. Without them it would not be possible to write a success story. These workers, highly and continuously qualified, added to the technology present in the company, allowing Blau Farmacêutica to go beyond.

Thus, we have learned over the years and continue to learn everyday how to value, respect and be in solidarity with people.

This behavior has created a culture of continuous improvement in the company, which improves its internal performance and further enhances the quality standard of its products and services.

This is Blau, an innovative company in a daily search to be better, ensuring that as many people as possible can have access to the most precious asset there is: A healthy life.
